When you picture your dream library, what does it look like?

When you think about what you want inside a library, what comes to mind?

Younger children may want to see a storytelling area with lots of comfy cushions or hands-on activity zones for things like Lego Clubs.

Older children and young people may want to have IT coding areas, virtual reality zones and music or media stations.

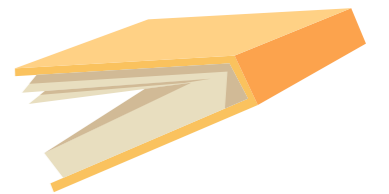

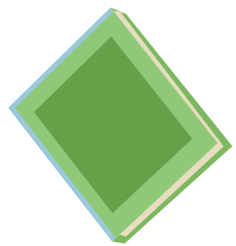

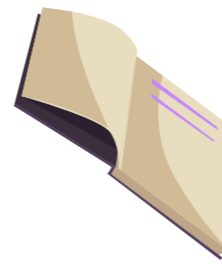

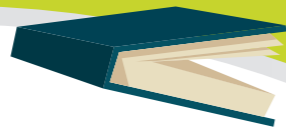

Whatever your age, whatever you're passionate about, tell us YOUR ideas for YOUR dream library.

A public consultation on a new Central Library

The 'Design Your Dream Library' competition is one part of the public consultation being ran by Nottingham City Council. The public consultation, being widely promoted to all city residents and stakeholders, will ask if the City Council should take the opportunity of redeveloping the Broadmarsh Area to create a modern Central Library for Nottingham. A new Central Library could have the potential to be Britain's best children's library – which is why the ideas of children and young people are so important!

For more information about the proposals, and to take part in the main public consultation process, please visit www.betterbroadmarsh.com or pick up a consultation booklet from any Nottingham City Council library.
