Welcome to the autumn 2019 issue of the Arrow, the City Council's magazine for residents.

“ Over the summer there was a brilliant programme of fun family events, making sure families in Nottingham had plenty to do over the holidays.

During my first months as Leader, I've been reaching out to partners to explore new and creative ways to deliver our ambitious plans for the city.

With Government grants for councils having been cut every year for the last eight years, this year we again face the task of reducing our budget by another £27million – meaning difficult decisions are ahead.

I want to consider your views on how we should meet those challenges – whether by changing how we deliver services, or taking tough decisions to reduce services.

Get in touch with me with your ideas at david.mellen@nottinghamcity.gov.uk, or fill in the survey included with this edition of the Arrow. ”

MONEY

Where to find help and advice

If you're struggling with money, it can seem like you're alone.

It's important to know two things...

- 1 You're not alone
- 2 There is free help and advice here in Nottingham

The leaflet enclosed with this Arrow contains help and advice on the most commonly experienced money problems.

Keep it or pass it on...

Could you keep the leaflet?

Even if your finances are ok right now, if your circumstances changed, the leaflet could help you to find advice.

Or could you pass the leaflet on?

Research shows that families and friends who talk about money often feel less stressed. If you know someone who is worrying about money, why not pass them the leaflet and offer to talk to them?

Talking about money is the first step to taking back control and feeling better.

Advisers are available across Nottingham. See the leaflet for details.

There's help for rough sleepers in Nottingham

This year, Nottingham City Council is spending around £6million helping people experiencing homelessness in Nottingham.

Nottingham City Council tries to prevent families from becoming homeless. However, if this cannot be achieved, we support homeless families by providing temporary accommodation (if needed, for a limited time) while working with them to find a settled home.

A minority of people sleep rough on the streets of Nottingham, and are the hardest group to reach. Many, but not all, have issues like drug and alcohol addiction, mental health problems, or a history of abuse, which can cause them to distrust groups who offer help.

We work with Framework – a local charity with decades of experience in the best ways to help rough sleepers, to reach out to long-term rough sleepers so that we can help them.

Rough sleepers are offered constant support by our outreach teams to help them escape street homelessness. There are also dozens of opportunities a week to receive free hot drinks, meals and snacks.

Here's how you can help:

- Seen someone you think needs our help? Tell us about them – call 0800 066 5356 / Text SOT and a message to 80800 or visit streetlink.org.uk
- Donate to Framework and/or Emmanuel House – two local charities who are helping rough sleepers in Nottingham
- Donate items such as food, clothes, toiletries and more
- Get tickets to Beat the Streets on 26 January – ALL the proceeds go direct to support homeless people in Nottingham!

Major new developments set to transform the city

BUILDING A BETTER NOTTINGHAM

If you've visited Nottingham city centre recently, you'll have seen just how much progress is being made on the major developments taking place.

Nottingham's Southside, the area around the train station, will see £2bn of redevelopment over the next decade as the area is transformed into a new area of the city to live, work, play and learn.

Cranes are in the air and the area is busy with construction workers across a variety of projects, aimed at bringing an initial 3,000 new jobs, economic growth and more visitors to Nottingham.

A number of projects are already well underway with plenty more to come.

Find out more about what's happening and where...

intu Broadmarsh

What's being built? The £86m re-development will transform the centre into a major leisure and retail destination for the city with new places to shop, eat and play including a cinema and bowling alley. More shops and outlets are set to be announced over the coming months.

When will it be finished? Summer 2021

What's the progress so far? The upper floors have closed and demolition works begun. Temporary structures are in place at Listergate Square ready for the installation of a new roof with a massive tower crane now visible on site joining the many others on the city's skyline!

New Broadmarsh Car Park, Bus Station and Central Library

What's being built? A new car park with 1,226 spaces including dedicated accessible/parent & child spaces; electric car charging and a taxi drop-off zone. Underneath it, a new bus station will deliver a redesigned and improved passenger experience, better connecting to the transport hub at Nottingham train station. A new Central Library is also planned within the building.

When will it be finished? The car park and bus station are due to open in spring 2021, with the library due to open in winter 2021.

way up

What's the progress so far? Demolition and site preparation was completed over the summer ready for the steel structure of the building to start going up this autumn.

Cranes are on site constructing the steel frame which will go up over winter and into spring 2021.

Consultation is ongoing with key stakeholders for the future Central Library to establish the needs of future users of a modern library, creating exciting spaces for children and young people and providing digital facilities fit for a 21st century library.

Nottingham College City Hub

What's being built? An impressive new college building ready to welcome 2,000 students a year.

When will it be finished? Autumn 2020

What's the progress so far? With the structural frame now complete, installation of windows and interior work has begun, with the number of workers on site increasing from 80 to 150.

Nottingham Castle (below)

What's being built? The Castle site is being transformed into a world class attraction with a new visitor centre, Robin Hood and Rebellion galleries and an international exhibition space.

When will it be finished? Early 2021.

What's the progress so far? External work is now more than halfway through including essential repairs to the roof and stonework as well as restoration inside, using local materials and traditional methods. Work has also started on the new Visitor Centre and the new Robin Hood and Rebellion galleries.

Other major developments in the pipeline include Unity Square, one of a series of Grade A office developments coming to the Southside area, which will bring 4,000 HMRC jobs to Nottingham. Additionally, a major development on the 40 acre Island site off London Road received planning permission earlier this year for 900 new homes, a five star hotel, offices, bars and restaurants.

BUILDING A BETTER NOTTINGHAM

City regeneration creating job opportunities for local people

Josh from Sherwood

Josh has been working as an apprentice on Nottingham's ground-breaking Energiesprong project which is upgrading homes with innovative energy-saving and energy-generating measures including new highly insulated outside walls and windows, a solar roof, and a state of the art heating system.

He'd been trying to secure work for six months prior to hearing about apprentice opportunities through Nottingham City Homes and the CSF Building Better Skills project. The partnership provided Josh with employability support, an introduction to construction and intensive one-to-one support.

"CSF Building Better Skills has helped me secure my aspirations and achieve my end goal, working in construction," says Josh.

"My next objective is to complete my two year apprenticeship and be taken on as a qualified multi-skilled tradesman with Melius.

"Nottingham Jobs has supported and paid for my sector specific training. I am now in the process of achieving my CSCS Card, First Aid, Fire Marshall and Asbestos awareness training".

Diane from Wollaton Vale

After a period of unemployment and retail, cleaning and factory work, Diane enrolled with Nottingham Jobs on the Construction Skills course at the new Nottingham Construction Hub.

The Hub, based at Nottingham College's new City Hub currently being built on Canal Street, is a partnership between the College, the City Council, Nottingham City Homes, Nottingham Jobs, Nottingham Futures, Wates Construction and the Woodhead Group.

Diane and her fellow students are studying to get a Construction Skills Certification Scheme (CSCS) card which will put them in a great position to make the most of employment opportunities presented by the major regeneration projects currently underway in the city.

Protecting homes and creating new ones

An exciting project is under way in the Basford/Sherwood area to protect homes from flooding, while creating new habitat for wildlife.

The Blue Green Infrastructure project will lower flood risk for around 160 properties near the Day Brook, while enhancing Valley Road Park for the local community.

- The project will see the watercourse moved back to its natural channel, as well as improving public access with new paths, and creating wildlife habitat to encourage biodiversity.
- A new toucan crossing will provide a safe crossing at Edwards Lane.

The £3m scheme has been funded through the European Regional Development Fund, Environment Agency Flood Defence Grant in Aid, Local Levy, Homes England, Nottingham City Council and private contributions. For further details visit www.nottinghamcity.gov.uk/parks proud of our past

We're proud of Nottingham's fascinating history and heritage.

New buildings are springing up around the city as part of the Council's regeneration plans, but did you know that work is also underway to restore some of Nottingham's much loved historic buildings. Heritage led regeneration is a fantastic way to restore the city's historic character, boost tourism and create jobs. Restoring historic buildings can be expensive for private owners so Nottingham City Council oversee a number of grant-funded schemes which aim to help restore buildings to their former glory.

Nottingham Heritage Action Zone and Conservation Area (HAZ)

The five-year programme supported by funding from Historic England is worth £2.7m and provides grants towards exterior works to commercial properties that are historic buildings in Old Market Square, Lace Market and Sneinton Market Conservation Area. Pictured on the right you can see a vacant former menswear shop transformed into an independent food outlet – supported by a £25k grant from HAZ.

34 Market Street From this...

...to this.

Carrington Street Area Townscape Heritage Scheme

The National Lottery Heritage Fund awarded £682,400 to Nottingham City Council in 2016 for a five-year scheme to provide grants to eligible owners or tenants of historic buildings in the Carrington Street area towards the cost of building repair or other townscape heritage works, such as the reinstatement of traditional shop-fronts. The pictures show a vacant shop become a solicitors, supported with a £55k grant from the Townscape Heritage Scheme.

These schemes are still open to expression of interests for eligible buildings. To find out more, and how to get involved with this and other heritage schemes and activities, visit nottinghamcity.gov.uk/heritageregeneration

Changes to mobility cards – have your say

Winwood Heights, Nottingham's newest retirement village, opens in Sherwood

Nottingham City Council and Nottingham City Homes are celebrating the opening of a brand new, 44 room extra-care centre in Sherwood.

The latest addition to the city's 'Building a Better Nottingham' programme is situated in the beautiful grounds of Woodthorpe Grange Park. Close to the popular shopping areas of Sherwood and Mapperley, Winwood Court is an environmentally-friendly, safe and modern community designed to help older and vulnerable people live independently for longer.

The opening comes as Nottingham celebrates one hundred years of council housing in the city.

To find out more, please call 0115 746 9977 or email homelink@nottinghamcityhomes.org.uk.

Applicants must be aged 60+, or 55+ and in receipt of DLA/PIP.

Since the introduction of the English National Concessionary Travel Scheme, Nottingham City Council has offered more than the statutory requirements for residents.

This has included additional free travel for Mobility Card holders before 9.30am and after 11pm. As a result of budget cuts from Central Government, in September 2018 the council reluctantly withdrew this additional benefit for Mobility cardholders.

This difficult decision to stop free travel outside the national scheme was made due to budget constraints. However, cardholders have continued to receive the benefits of the national concessionary scheme, and in the 11 months since the additional concession was withdrawn the measure has actually saved the council approximately £250,000.

We would like to hear if this change to services has affected you, and to what extent. We are running a survey until 15 November to gather views, and present alternative options. This should take approximately 10-15 minutes and can be completed online at - www.transportnottingham.com/survey

Keeping our children safe

on Nottingham's roads

Keeping children safe from preventable harm is one of the City Council's top priorities, so this autumn, two new measures are being introduced to safeguard children in and around their schools.

Nottingham schools say NO to idling

Nottingham City Council will begin taking action against idling – drivers who leave their engines running while waiting, particularly outside schools, and at taxi ranks and level crossings.

In a survey last year, 82 per cent of respondents supported taking action against engine idling. The council will now issue drivers leaving their engines running with a £20 fine if they refuse to switch off when asked to do so.

Everyone is encouraged to get involved in cleaning up our air by trying a greener mode of travel, such as walking or cycling to work or school, taking public transport, and switching off their engine when stopped.

Tackling dangerous parking outside schools

We've listened to your feedback - telling us that the way a minority of people park during school drop-off and pick-up times is dangerous, so new measures to discourage this behaviour are being brought in to prevent a serious accident.

Drivers who park on the zig-zag lines outside schools can now be fined £70.

Nottingham remembers

Commemorative Ceremony Sunday 10 November Victoria Embankment

The public are welcome at the Annual Service of Remembrance and Thanksgiving, which will take place at the war memorial arch, from 10.45am, with the silence at 11am.

The South Notts Hussars will be having their Service at St Mary's Church this day as well, and will have their march past in the city centre at 12noon approximately.

Armistice Day Monday 11 November Old Market Square

Nottingham City Council's Civic Office will observe the two minutes silence at 11am on the steps of the Council House, with the event starting at 10.55am. Members of the public are very welcome to join in.

Visit Nottingham's new War Memorial

HRH Duke of Kent officially unveiled the Great War Memorial to Nottinghamshire's fallen on Friday 28 June. The memorial is located on the Victoria Embankment next to the memorial built between 1923 and 1927, on land bequeathed in perpetuity by Jesse Boot.

It features the names of the 13,482 people from Nottinghamshire who lost their lives in the 1914 – 18 War, as well as civilian casualties, including nurses, two people killed in a Zeppelin air raid in September 1916 and the victims of the Chilwell shell filling factory explosion in July 1918.

No place for hate in Nottingham

We know Nottingham is a friendly city with fantastic communities that welcome new people and get along well with their neighbours.

- That's the experience of the vast majority of people
- who live here, but some people experience hate
- crimes – behaviour motivated by prejudice, often
- around someone's: race; religion; gender; sexual
- orientation, transgender identity; disability or
- alternative sub-culture.

• If a hate crime is directed at you

- If possible, write down what happened, including the time, date and location and get the details of any witnesses. If you receive messages online, take screenshots.

• If you witness a hate crime

- If it's safe to do so, calmly speak to the victim and ignore the abusive person. By devoting all your attention to the victim, you are letting them know that they're not going through this alone. You can also offer your details to the victim if they'd like to report the hate crime to police.

We are the friendliest big city in the UK!

Nottingham came top in a recent national survey for the friendliest big city! 98% of Nottingham people said they get on with their neighbours.

Hate crimes are illegal and are taken very seriously by Nottinghamshire Police. Report to Nottinghamshire Police – Call 101 or visit www.nottinghamshire.police.uk/hatecrime

BIG LITTLE MOMENTS

MAKE THE MOST OF THE BIG LITTLE MOMENTS

Babies and toddlers are growing every day and the little moments you share can make a big difference. From getting dressed to walking to the park, waiting for the bus to having dinner, every moment is a chance to build your child's brain.
